Sixth Annual Free Cooking School of Hope Star Now in Session at Saenger Theater—at 2 Every Afternoon Through Friday—Free to All.

This newspaper produced under industrial terms of Section 3 NRA.

Hope Star

WEATHER
Arkansas — Partly cloudy, warmer in north and central portions Wednesday night; Thursday partly cloudy and warmer.

VOLUME 35—NUMBER 80 (AP)—Means Associated Press NEA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n HOPE, ARKANSAS, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1934 Star of Hope founded 1899; Hope Daily Press, 1927; Consolidated as Hope Star, January 18, 1929. PRICE 5c COPY

GOVERNOR IS BEATEN

Here and There

—Editorial By Alex. H. Washburn—

EDITOR The Star: I read with awe and pity your editorial in The Star of Saturday, January 13. You admit that you know nothing of the mystery of life and death, and you assume that none of us know. You are right. That is God's business. But would you compare the operation of man-made money systems with the Divine power of God? You admit you know nothing about the money question. I believe you are right again.

You refer to Professor Irving Fisher as saying that only 19 Americans know the money question. He does not include our president in that number. Yet you refer to the people who would dare to think of the money question as jacknsses.

I believe you will have to admit that the money systems of the world are man-made and not acts of God; and that it is our duty as citizens of a self-governed country to at least try to find out something about a question that affects the lives and well-being of the people of this country as much as does the operation of our money system.

We have left the manipulation of our medium of exchange to the few, whether it was 19 or more or less I am not prepared to say, until here in the year of Our Lord 1934 we find ourselves making a hard fight under a great leader trying to prevent suffering in the land of plenty.

We will win this fight under the leadership of our president. He doesn't hesitate to say and do something about the money question, even though he is not one of Professor Fisher's 19.

If the rest of us jackasses could help just a little it might mean a lot.

Yours for a better understanding.
EMORY A. THOMPSON
January 15, 1934
Fulton, Ark.

X X X

My head is bloody but unbowed.

I maintain, as I have always maintained in this column, that the best service our people can do their president is to give his policies unqualified support, and on the technical question of monetary revision keep their mouths shut.

I have read hundreds of Open Forum letters on the money question in the Arkansas Gazette, urging the printing of greenbacks and other forms of rank inflation, exposing the appalling ignorance and incapacity of the common people when casting about for help in the quagmire where the kings and captains of commerce already are sunk.

I have read the Arkansas Gazette's patient editorials explaining the folly of imagining that any mere juggling of bookkeeping—which is all there is to currency inflation—will cure the sick body of American business.

I am a plain man. I have devoted my life to the expose of hokum. And wherever I find it I usually tromp on it, regardless who is hit.

X X X

When I quoted Professor Fisher as saying there are only 19 men in America who "understand money" I was in error. What Professor Fisher really said was, there are only 19 men IN THE WHOLE WORLD who understand money (Literary Digest January 13, page 41).

Twelve of the 19 live in America.

One is Professor George F. Warren, financial advisor to President Roosevelt; another is Professor J. Harvey Rogers, also advisor to the president; and a third is Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker who endorses the president's commodity dollar.

The president, you see, is entrenched with the best financial authority the history and experience of civilization can give him.

I do not believe, if our people knew the true story of the world's struggle with the money question, they would have the temerity to rush in where only 12 Americans are recognized, three of whom are already serving the president.

X X X

I say that men don't really know any more about the mystery of finance than they know about the mystery of life and death, and I'll stand pat on that.

President Roosevelt warned you from the outset:

"I shall try many things. They may work. They may fail. But if they fail I shall be the first to tell you."

That's why I admire the president. No hokum about him.

You admire him for what he has done.

I admire him for the things he is afraid to do.

I admire the president in the way I admire Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, who reached the South Pole with the boast, "I didn't lose a man."

Mr. Roosevelt wants to reach prosperity, but he is resolved not to lose America while getting there.

X X X

This money question stumps the college student in economics.

It stumps the editor writing for his readers.

It has stumped the world from the dawn of history.

I have been reading Herodotus, the world's first historian, writing the story of Egypt's 11½ thousand years of kings. He says:

> Asychis became king of Egypt. . . . In this king's reign they told me that, as the circulation of money was very slow, a law was made for the Egyptians that a man might have that money lent to him which he needed, by offering as security the dead body of his father; and there was added moreover to this law another, namely that he who lent the money should have a claim also to the whole of the sepulchral chamber belonging to him who received it, and that the man who offered that security should be subject to this penalty, if he refused to pay back the debt, namely that neither the man himself should be allowed to have burial, when he died, either in that family burial-place or in any other, nor should he be allowed to bury any of his kinsmen whom he lost by death (Harvard Classics Vol. 33, P. 70).

And after 10,000 years the world boasts only 19 living men who may know something about this mystery.

You, dear reader, wouldn't advise me to talk either, would you?

Roosevelt Certain His Gold Move Is According to Law

President Has Oral Opinion of Attorney General Cummings

POWERFUL BACKING

Favored by Federal Reserve Head and Frank A. Vanderlip

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Roosevelt was represented Wednesday as being well satisfied as to the constitutionality of his monetary program.

He has an opinion from Attorney General Cummings supporting it.

This was made plain in response to inquires resulting from an investigation into the constitutionality of the plan ordered by senatorial committee ranks.

The president received an oral opinion from the attorney general when the country went off the gold standard that the government had the right to take over the gold held by individuals and banks.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A written opinion on the constitutionality of commandeering the gold stocks of the Federal Reserve System was requested from Attorney General Cummings Tuesday night by the senate banking committee after Democratic members had challenged validity of this phase of the Roosevelt monetary program.

The committee met to consider legislation requested by the president to give the government title to all moneary gold, devalue the dollar by a minimum of 40 per cent and to establish a $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund. It received a general explanation of the contemplated moves from Secretary Morgenthau.

Afterward, Chairman Fletcher announced that closed and limited hearings at which members of the Federal Reserve Board would testify would be held Wednesday and Thursday.

"Adequate hearings" were demanded early in the day by the Republicans in caucus, but Fletcher said that no party issue was made of the question in the committee.

"We'll have before us Governor Black of the Federal Reserve Board, Adolph Miller (a member of the board, a representative of the attorney general, and Professor Rogers (one of the president's advisors)," he said.

Black Favors Plan

The committee will hear no opposition from Governor Black to the president's contemplated action in nationalizing the Rserve bank's gold. He revealed today that the board had recommended to the president that such action be taken. It felt, said Black, "that the Reserve banks should not be the beneficiaries of the enhanced value placed upon their gold by a purely monetary policy of the government."

Meanwhile, progress was held up in the house by a dispute over whether the banking committee or the coinage committee should have jurisdiction. Speaker Rainey ruled late Tuesday that the measure should go to the coinage committee, but members of the banking committee signaled that they would protest the ruling and demand a vote in the house Wednesday.

The coinage commitee occupied itself with gathering material on methods of stabilizing the dollar. The Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin warmly praised President Roosevelt's program and exclaimed that unless Congress enacted it there would be a revolution "that will make the French Revolution look silly."

Frank A. Vanderlip, a New York banker, urged return to a "modernized gold standard," under which there would be no requirement that paper currency in circulation be backed with a required proportion of gold as at present. He said he favored the president's plan.

Economists, not connected with the administration, studying President Roosevelt's proposals, saw in the proposed stabilization fund a potential instrument for a big increase in currency in circulation. The fund is to come from profits accruing from the value of gold stocks after devaluation of the dollar and is to be used primarily for purchases of foreign exchange and of gold abroad.

Morgenthau Questioned

Morgenthau came before the Senate late in the day. He read from a prepared statement, then submitted to questions from members of the committee, with Senator Glass of Virginia, co-author of the Federal Reserve law, and a Democratic authority on banking and currency legislation, asking some pointed questions regarding constitutionality of the proposed gold step.

Prince Went Away . .

Her honeymoon plans went all awry, with the bridegroom dodging process servers, but Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, still was smiling joyfully as she paused in San Francisco, as shown here, on her wedding trip to the Orient. Prince Alexis Mdivani, who left the wedding car at Reno and flew to Seattle to avoid being a witness in a California oil suit involving his brothers, will rejoin his bride in Honolulu.

Deserving Vets to Obtain Preference

Adjutant Sisson Tells Hempstead Legion of CWA Provisions

Veterans of the World War are entitled to and will receive preference where the cases are deserving, in the CWA program now being carried on in the state, Major R. W. Sisson, state adjutant of the American Legion, told a large crowd of veterans at Hope city hall Tuesday night.

The meeting was arranged by Leslie Huddleston post of the Legion and was presided over by Dewey Hendrix, commander of the local post. Major Sisson was accompanied from Little Rock by Joe Lee, assistant to the state adjutant.

A survey of the work in the state has been made by Major Sisson and statistics covering the employment of veterans in every county have been compiled. His visits to the various posts over the state is a continuation of this survey and an actual check-up on the figures supplied.

In Hempstead county, his records showed, of the total of approximately 1,312 men employed in the county, about 200 had been veterans.

A check-up of the survey showed that a large percentage of these veterans, who had been given employment under CWA projects had later been dismissed from the works program.

"State CWA headquarters," Major Sisson said, "has told the headquarters of the American Legion that veterans with dependents and unemployed, would be given preference. Men on direct relief work before formation of the CWA came first in the work, but veterans who come under this classification are entitled to and will be given consideration ahead of others in the same category."

Commander Hendrix appointed W. M. Ramsey and E. A. Morsani as members of a laison committee to serve with him in helping veterans obtain work on the CWA projects.

Plans of the Legion post to build a hut for the post, obtaining CWA assistance in the work, were discussed. Oliver Williams, Chedester Hall and Lyle Webb were appointed as a committee to prepare plans for the hut project.

A membership committee for the city was named to consist of Charles Taylor, Ben Wellborn and Bill Ramsey. J. L. Tedder, B. C. Hollis and Dewey Hendrix were named to canvass other sections of the county for memberships.

Alvin Robertson of Spring Hill and B. C. Hollis of Hope were presented "Bodie Torch Bearer" pins for extraordinary work in behalf of the Legion. Each of these men had secured more than 20 new members for the

(Continued on Page Two)

Bishop Dobbs to Speak on Sunday

Will Preach at Morning Service at First Methodist

Bishop H. M. Dobbs of Shreveport, La., will be the preacher at the morning service of First Methodist church next Sunday, January 21.

He is serving the last year of four in his term as supervisior of the work of his church in Arkansas and Louisiana, and this is his first visit to the church here.

Bishop Dobbs has had a great experience in the work of the Methodist ministry. His father, Dr. S. L. Dobbs, was for years one of the leaders of the Alabama conference. His son, after his graduation from the school of religion at Vanderbilt University, became pastor of some of the large churches of the connection.

When the school of religion was formed at Southern Methodist University the trustee, recognizing his brilliancy of mind and sound scholarship, called him to a chair in the school. As a teacher of young ministers he commended himself by great qualities of mind and heart both to the faculty and student body. On the death of Professor Seay, who was dean of the school, he was selected to succeed him. In this position he exercised his talent to bring to the school a great corps of teachers.

After his resignation he was pastor in his home conference until elected one of the bishops of the church by the General Conference of 1922, meeting at Hot Springs.

Since his consecration to that office Bishop Dobbs has served in the Latin American works, and at home in the Florida and Alabama conferences, and then for the past quadrennium in Arkansas and Louisiana.

The church here was to have had the bishop with them the second Sunday in December, but he was forced to postpone the engagement because of the serious illness of his wife.

He will arrive in Hope next Saturday afternoon, and will be the guest of the local church at the Barlow Hotel.

The subject for his sermon Sunday morning will be announced in The Star Saturday afternoon.

Harrison Lewis Dies, Negro Business Man

Harrison Lewis, founder of the Lewis & Wilson grocery, cafe and hotel on East Third street, died at 5:42 Wednesday morning at the Lewis & Wilson hotel. He was an outstanding business man of his race in the city and surrounding territory. He is survived by a wife, two sons, a sister and other relatives. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

Japanese Tourist Makes Address to Hope High School

A. Icyda, of Kobe, Speaks on Affairs of Orient

FOR UNDERSTANDING

Visitor Urges Friendship Between Nations of East and West

Wednesday morning at the assembly period the students and faculty of the High School heard a lecture given by A. Icyda of Kobe, Japan.

Mr. Icyda is a naturalized American having been a resident of this country intermittantly for eleven years. He has made six trips from America to his native home and has visited most of the countries of his own continent and those of Europe. His education was obtained in the schools of his country. "My United States language," he says, "I picked up here in your country."

Illustrates His Talk

He was an interesting speaker, illustrating continually. He exhibited many Oriental objects of art and of the household which were quite interesting, among which were, dresses, shoes, fans, a pillow. "The art of the needle in Japan is something which the people of that nation excell over every other." To prove this he exhibited several pieces worked in silk and semi-silk. One, some six feet square, has a retail value of $200.

During the course of his lecture Mr. Icyda told his listeners many interesting facts about his country and the customs of the Japanese people. Only seventeen per cent of the land area will produce a crop. The inhabited part of Japan is about the size of California and is populated by 85,000,000 Japanese. In Japan people never kiss, "Ah," he said, "they don't know what they are missing."

Emphasis of West

The lecturer said that his countrymen take readily to Westernizing ideas, especially clothes. The Japanese are a quick motioned athletic people and are hearty enthusiasts of our national sport, baseball. "The university's nine will compare favorably with that of Princeton and Columbia in this country."

Mr. Icyda thinks that the reason the Orient and Western nations are always "barking at each other like dogs" is because they are "like a stranger to a farmer's dog. They don't know each other. If they did they would be like the dog when he knows me, he don't bark."

Though traveling on his "own hook" it is the purpose of this son of Nippon to help this country and his native land to understand each other better and a closer relationship be cemented between the two. The place he is starting is in the school with the oncoming generations. His only income is from paintings, hand painted stationery, chop-sticks and the like which he sells to the students as souveniers at moderate price.

One-Light Autos Halted by Patrol

2 State Patrolmen Checking Up On Night Traffic Here

Two state highway patolmen were on duty here Tuesday night as part of a state-wide check up on motorists violating highway regulations.

The patrolmen are expected to be stationed here for the next several days. Several motorists were detained Tuesday night on account of faulty lights.

Automobile owners were warned Wednesday to have their car lights, both rear and front, put in proper order.

Excessive speed on the highways entering Hope is being watched in an effort to curb automobile wrecks.

One of 5 Escaped Convicts Retaken

J. B. French Recaptured After Rescue by Clyde Barrow

HUNTSVILLE, Texas—(AP)—J. B. French, one of the five convicts who escaped when Clyde Barrow, Texas desperado, raided the Eastham State Prison Farm Tuesday, was recaptured near the prison farm late that night, officials revealed here Wednesday.

French was serving a 12-year term for assault to murder, robbery, and automobile theft.

NRA Baffles Robbers; Cashier Is Late, and They Get Only $100

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—Two robbers held 30 persons at bay with submachine-guns and a pistol in the office of the Public Utilities company downtown here Wednesday, but obtained less than $100, thanks chiefly to the National Recovery Act.

Cashier J. T. Jackson, complying with the NRA working hours, did not arrive until a few minutes after the robbers fled without gaining access to the safe.

Officers Flayed on False Arrest

Bingen Writer Charges Refusal to Permit Identification

Editor The Star: Last Thursday, January 11, a man (graduate of Hendrix college, World war veteran, school teacher by profession, and church worker) of Bingen, north Hempstead, was in Hope on business.

A Hempstead deputy sheriff was looking for a man with a mole on the right side of his face, who had committed some little crime in Scott county some time previous. The north Hempstead man had the "mole qualification" and his eyes seemed to conform with those of the criminal sought, so he was taken into custody.

He wanted to see friends in Hope to get them to identify him, but the deputy didn't want to do that because of the publicity it would give the case. Later the Hempstead sheriff was seen and the question of making bond was brought up. The sheriff had the following to say about this: "No, Brother Blank, there is nothing we can do about making a bond. We'll just have to hold you."

The man was taken to Washington, then allowed to drive his car on home, accompanied by the deputy sheriff and county jailer. He was then taken back to Washington and forced to spend the night in the county jail.

The next day he was taken to De-Queen and there the officers found they had the wrong man.

I say, under what name should a ridiculous episode, on the part of the law-enforcement officers, be classified anyway—when an honorable and very favorably known man is arrested on flimsy evidence, is not permitted to take steps to regain his freedom, and is forced to undergo the humiliation of being confined for a period of time in the county jail?

R. D. W.

January 15, 1934
Bingen, Ark.

Earthquake Dead in India Is 2,000

Streets of Lost City Littered With Bodies, Aviators Report

CALCUTTA, India—(AP)—Estimates of India's earthquake dead leaped into four figures Wednesday.

Some observers said 2,000 was a conservative estimate of those killed in Monday's catastrophe. Hundreds were reported killed at Muzaffarpur. The streets were littered with corpses and the town was in ruins, aviators reported.

Jap Spy Suspects and Cameras Held

5 Yellow Men Seized Photographing U. S. Shipping Yards

KEARNEY, N. J.—Five picture-taking Japanese, all representatives of the Japanese government railways, were arrested Tuesday on Route 25, Lincoln highway, less than a quarter of a mile from the Kearney shipyards where a United States government cruiser is under construction.

Officials admitted they knew of no law by foreigners, even of naval building operations.

Pleading a natural Oriental penchant for taking photographs, the five armed with cameras were seized after three CWA workers in a road gang who noticed their activities called the attention of Policemen Joseph Colgan and William Callahan to the Japanese parked car.

After extensive questioning, in which Department of Justice agents took a hand, it was decided the quintet would be paroled, pending further investigation, in the custody of the Japanese consul general, providing a representative of the consulate in New York identifies them properly.

The prisoners insisted the pictures they took were made only to impress friends and relatives in Japan with America's great progress.

House Votes 67-17 to Keep His Hands Off Penitentiary

Pen Refinancing Bill Goes to Senate for Debate There

REDUCE ROAD FUND

Senate Amendments Cut It Below Million—1½ Is Needed

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The house Wednesday afternoon by a vote of 69 to 17 passed the penitentiary financing bill, leaving in it the provision taking from Governor Futrell the power to approve or disapprove actions of the penal board.

The bill is being debated in the senate.

The senate added amendments to the refunding bill reducing revenue under the measure to below the million-dollar mark.

An amendment by Armstrong, of Fort Smith, allowing gasoline tax refunds on public works contracts existing before January 1, removed an estimated $80,000 in revenue; and other amendments previously passed sliced off approximately $40,000.

A total of $1,437,000 is needed for the refunding plan.

The house defeated a resolution by Nyberg, of Phillips county, to defer consideration of refunding until an appeal is taken from the three-judge federal court decision tying up highway revenues.

The senate adopted a concurrent resolution for a far-reaching investigation into the management and financial setup of insurance companies. The resolution was sponsored by Senator Bailey.

Rap City Aid

LITTLE ROCK—Declaring that in their opinion the Evans-Mitchell amendment to the refunding bill to provide 100 per cent aid to municipal paving districts "will be an absolute bar to refunding," a group of sponsors of the refunding measure indicated Tuesday night that an effort will be made to have the senate consider the amendment and to attempt to have the highway continuation indebtedness handled in a separate bill or refunded on the same basis as road improvement district bonds.

The amendment provides that the original interest rate shall be paid in cash on the full highway continuation debt; that half the debt shall be paid in cash from year to year without extending maturity dates of bonds originally issued by the districts, and that the other half shall be paid by a similar method as soon as the first half is paid.

Another amendment was adopted Tuesday by the senate to increase appropriations for paving aid approximately $335,000 a year above the amount originally allotted by the bill to pay interest at three per cent on refunding certificates of indebtedness which would not begin to mature for 20 years.

The first amendment, authorizing issuance of Series A and B municipal paving aid bonds, was adopted Thursday night, with only four votes against it. Eleven senators were absent or did not vote.

Sponsors of the refunding bill met Tuesday night to analyze the effects of amendments adopted by the Senate and House and following the meeting said the city paving aid amendment appears to be the only one that "undoubtedly would cause bondholders to fail to refund, or would make it impossible to finance the refunding plan without a material increase in revenues above those now provided for in the bill."

Futile, Says Gazette

LITTLE ROCK—The Arkansas Gazette said editorially Wednesday:

The Arkansas House voted yesterday, 48 to 37, in favor of enacting a mortgage moratorium law instead of a highway debt refunding law. This vote, on a resolution expressing "the sentiment of the House," has no binding effect. But the people of Arkansas should understand that a law modeled on the Minnesota moratorium statute recently upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States would not solve their problem of delinquent and defaulted highway indebtedness.

In the first place $91,000,000 of the debt is a direct charge on highway revenue and the state's full faith and credit. A moratorium on mortgage foreclosures would not affect court action by highway and bridge bondholders to protect their interests by impounding highway revenue or by other remedies.

In the second place, the federal Supreme Court in its 5-4 decision emphasized the fact that the Minnesota law suspends final action in foreclosure suits only for a limited and

(Continued on Page Two)

Crowd Is Growing at Cooking School

Main Floor of Saenger Nearly Filled Wednesday Afternoon

The Main floor of the Saenger theater was nearly filled Wednesday afternoon by the crowd attending the second performance of The Star's free Cooking School, Mrs. Martha McDonald conducting.

The school begins every afternoon at 2 o'clock, running through Friday, admission free to all.

On the screen Wednesday night the Saenger is showing Warner Baxter in the comedy "As Husbands Go." Thursday and Friday night the screen feature is Noel Cwoard's "Design for Living," with Gary Cooper, Fredric March and Miriam Hopkins. Saenger matinees have been cancelled until Saturday on account of the Cooking School.

Sewer Complaints Aired by Council

Obnoxious Odors Protested, and Investigation Is Ordered

Investigation of two sewer disposals one on the east and the other on the west side of the city, were ordered Tuesday night at a meeting of the city council.

The investigation to be made followed complaints by neighbors of obnoxious odors from the two sewerage lines.

No reports from any of the various committees were heard. There was no old business to discuss, and the council adjourned within an hour after starting its session.

$258,000 Aid for LaFayette County

RFC Grants Money to Refinance Drainage, Levee Districts

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Reconstruction Finance Corporation Wednesday authorized loans of $360,000 to three Arkansas levee and drainage districts for refinancing of outstanding bonds.

Of this, $61,500 was granted the Little Bay and Whiteman's Creek drainage district No. 20, Craighead county; $103,500 to Long Prairie drainage district, LaFayette county; and $155,000 to Long Prairie levee district, LaFayette county.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Any girl who watches her figure is a good number.

Hope Star

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by the Star Publishing Co., Inc. (C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas Under the Act of March 3, 1897.

Subscription Rates (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 10c, six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and LaFayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. R. McCormick.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolution, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN Washington

Roosevelt's Balancing Act Can't Be Equaled . . . Looks Like Hair-Pulling Bee in Congress . . . East and West in New Civil War . . . What! Eight More Huey Longs!

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — President Roosevelt will continue to walk the tightrope he has stretched between the right and the left.

His balancing act still is the envy of his enemies and the delight of his friends.

Gracefully poised in midair, he feeds the liberals with one hand and the conservatives with the other. Neither group ever is satisfied completely, but each finds plenty of opportunity for applause. Between handclasps they reach for each others' throats.

No one dares cast a tomato, lest Roosevelt fall into the arms of the other side.

As 1933 closed, the president had given the liberals complete control of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, tending to offset the complete industrial domination which he permits in NRA.

In the few days of 1934 he has tossed these assurances to liberals: Building of a "new structure," "permanent readjustment of many of our social and economic arrangements," continued government supervision of industry, a national planning program to cost $500,000,000 a year, even in normal times, chastisement of welathy tax evaders and unscrupulous bankers, corporations, and speculators, stimulation of consumer organization, and continued labor protection.

And to conservatives: "Reasonable profits," no arbitrary government dictatorship for industry, balanced budget for 1935-36, early retrenchment and a tapering and gradual elimination of relief-emergency expenses, control of emergency expenses by conservative Budget Director Douglas, and likelihood that the federal financial situation will be better than now estimated.

Ha! Hair Pulling!

An unofficial House popularity contest is on between jolly, white-haired Congressman Florence P. Kahn of California, and charming, new Mrs. Isabella Greenway of Arizona. They were standing separately in the lobby the other day, each surrounded by men.

"Rival!" called out Mrs. Kahn to Mrs. Greenway.

Another Civil War

The sidewalks of New York and the western prairies are involved in a feud whose repercussions you'll be hearing in Congress.

Senators from the 11 western states in which Uncle Sam still holds public lands are griping bitterly because Senator Bob Wagner of New York is accepting chairmanship of the Senate's Public Lands committee. Wagner is entitled to the job by seniority, but the westerners insist he should have let one of them have it, in accordance with custom.

Behind the scenes rages the old fight of the states for cession of the federal lands within their borders—170,000,000 acres. That hope is seriously threatened by Secretary of the Interior Ickes' program for withdrawing the lands from entry and leasing them for grazing under a federal control which would preserve their value.

The Taylor bill, already passed by the House, embodies that program. The westerners think the administration persuaded Wagner to take the chairmanship so as to push the Taylor bill, whereas one of their own number would have blocked it.

There Should Be a Law

Eight little Huey Longs in the House? The horrible thought that Huey's delegation might come to that spread through the chamber as Congressman Joachim Octave Fernandez of Louisiana appeared for Mrs. Bolivar E. Kemp, whose election is contested.

Joachim, about Huey's age, reproduced in detail his leader's slouch, accents, cockiness, and other mannerisms.

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

©1933 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

Creamy Cosmetis Are Best For Dry Skins

Dry skins need, in addition to nourishment and adequate protection from sun and wind, cosmetics which have no drying effects.

For example, cream rouges are considered better than powdered ones for dry complexions. New cream rouges have about the same consistency as whipped cream. They blend easily, leaving no rough edges and give a smooth, velvet-like appearance to a skin which is otherwise pretty dry.

Always smooth on a foundation lotion or cream before you start to apply cream rouge. Here's a little rouge trick which pobably will prove helpful to anyone who has trouble geting the edges smoothed out: Dip your forefinger lightly in your cleansing cream and then into the rouge pot. You'll find that the combination of the cream and rouge will aid you in blending the color on your skin.

Buy your powder from a reliable manufacturer and try it before you make the purchase. The textue of face powder is just as important as the shade of it. Sometimes a heavier one, containing a little oil, is flattering to a dry skin.

If your lips are dry, use a creamy lipstick which will tend to keep them looking moist and freshly made up.

NEXT: More about dry skin.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

©1933 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

Children Will Not Leave Home If Given Some Authority.

Suppose you are asked to visit a friend, and you pack excitedly, buy your ticket, and plan a fortnight of relaxation and fun.

Sally lives, we'll say, in the country and you take along your skates. In the old days you and Sally were crazy about skating, and she has written so often about the lovely lake near her house.

She has also writeen that Jack, her husband, belongs to a sledding clug and that suits you perfectly. Also you take along your riding togs, aired and inspected dubiously for style. However, in the country probably they'll pass muster and you only pray that whatever nag good rich old Jack puts at your disposal won't notice and will be a good horsey and be patient with your posting until you get your muscles toughened up a bit.

Oh, yes, you are going to have a good time ,a very, very good time, indeed.

A Change to Formality

But Sally has changed. She shows you her house re-done by the latest in decorators, her collection of patch and snuff boxes, and her cabinet of rare old manuscripts, her latest hobby.

If you sit down and muss a pillow she straightens it when you rise. In your bedroom you feel instinctively that the book on the bedside stand is not to be read and if so it must be replaced at the angle you found it.

Sally has gone in for bridge, conversation and French. Her clubs are bridge, conversation and French. She goes her way and Jack goes his. Jack is all outdoors and she is all indoors. Moreover, she has pre-empted every minute of your time her way, so you don't see a skate, a toboggan or a horse the whole time you'e there.

You aren't there long for about the second day you are cooking up some excuse to leave. It takes three to get yourself a telegram from the family and on the sixth day you break camp.

Feeling at Home

The last week of your furlough you finish up at Mary's. Mary is poor but she doesn't mind caramel papers on the floor, or water on the tablecloth. She can't do anything well, thinks you're a wonder and says, "Make yourself at home. The ranch is yours."

You wish you could stay a year at Mary's. She'll do anything you suggest, even to painting the living room floor black and bringing down the orange rug. Indeed you both get at it and when the effect is good, Mary looks at you with awe in her eyes. "You're just the smartest woman I know," she remarks.

People like to stay where they are considered important, where they have a bit of a say-so and where they don't have to live other people's lives and plans every second.

And this is why so many Suzys and Dicks and Pollys and Toms leave home day after day and hunt up some cronies around the corner. They get terribly weary of living their parents' plans fom sun-up 'til sun-down, of never having a vote, and of having to ride household policies.

Are our homes places to camp in and be comfortable or places to escape from?

We all might sit up and rub our eyes.

"And I Thought I Was Red!"

HOUSE VOTES 67-17

(Continued from Page One)

specified period, two years, requiring the delinquent owners meanwhile to pay rental on the property they are given more time to redeem. To suspend foreclosures on road district and continuation district liens in Arkansas for two years, would only pile up a larged delinquency to be satisfied by foreclosure sales when the inevitable day of reckoning came.

In the third place, it is not safe to assume that the Supreme Court of the United States would find an Arkansas moratorium law barring bondholder action to be on all fours with the Minnesota measure. That great tribunal is on delicate ground when any question touching the impairment of contracts by state laws—which the constitution forbids—comes before it. In the Minnesota case, four of the nine justices could not persuade themselves that even the two-year suspension of a contractual right was not an impairment of that contract.

Arkansas would take up a case to a court which has spread on its record the fact that Arkansas virtually offered Pennsylvania $60,000 not to press a suit to collect delinquent interest on highway bonds. These proceedings would be in equity, where a litigant must come into court with clean hands. The question whether Arkansas was unable or merely unwilling to meet its bonded obligations, and whether the moratorium act was in reality an attempt to deprive bondholders of their rights would inevitably come up.

And the question whether a moratorium act is an honest and justifiable substitute for a refunding measure is up now in the Arkansas legislature, not stated in so many words, but inseparable from the proposal approved by the House of Representatives.

DESERVING VETS

(Continued from Page One)

post. The presentation was made by Major Sisson. Bill Ramsey is the only other member of the local post to win one of these pins. He has secured more than 25 new members.

Approximately 150 members of the post attended, coming here from all parts of the county.

Alabama Schools Close Next Month

Over Half of White Schools to Suspend February 1

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — A state-wide survey if Alabama's public school system—beset with financial difficulties—showed that more than 50 per cent of white rural and city schools would be forced to close their doors by February 1, and end their school year at the mid-term.

Reports made to the state Department of Education showed that all rural schools in 32 of the 60 counties reporting would be closed February 1, and that several of the seven counties that did not report could not operate beyond that date. The survey of the 45 cities showed that 14 would close all schools before February 1, while nine cities did not report. In all, 1,390 schools of 2,746 reporting were definitely scheduled to close before February 1. Two hundred schools already have closed.

Members of the Alabama legislature including the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House, have written Gov. B. M. Miller urging a special session of the legislature for the passage of emergency revenue legislation for schools.

Radio Evangelist Will Preach Here

W. S. Barham to Conduct Service at Christian Church

Evangelist W. S. Barham, Texas radio preacher and pastor of Faith tabernacle church in Dallas, will begin an old-fashioned undenominational revival at First Christian church here January 22, it was announced Wednesday.

The song services will be in charge of Levere Barham, brother of the evangelist, assisted by Miss Pauline Bowland who formerly appeared on the air through facilities of the Sunshine radio station, Del Rio, Texas.

The evangelist comes here after 15 years experience in the ministry. The meeting will not be conducted under auspices of the Christian church, but members have granted use of the building, it was said.

John Gilbert and Fourth Wife Quit

Virginia Bruce and Baby Return to Her Parents

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The fourth marriage of John Gilbert apparently is headed the way of the other three.

Titian-haired Virginia Bruce, whom he married August 10, 1932, was making her home with her parents Monday. She said she and the actor had been unable to agree and so had separated.

Divorce is not in their thoughts for the present, said the wife of the screen lover, herself an actress until she married Gilbert and forsook her career. Divorce severed Gilbert's unions with his other actress wives—Olive Burwell, Leatrice Joy and Ina Claire.

Gilbert had nothing to say, explaining that his wife would do the talking.

Preparing For New Industries

CARSON CITY—(AP)—Anticipating the time when cheap power from Bolder dam will be available, the state engineer's office is making a survey of sources of materials and cost of manufacture of electro-chemical products at the dam site in southern Nevada. Results of the survey will be compiled in a booklet for distribution to manufacturers.

Arkansas River Is Urged for Shipping

Congress Asked to Provide 9-Foot Channel Into Oklahoma

WASHINGTON.— (AP) —Advocating improvement of the Arkansas hiver as far upstream as the Oklahoma oil fields, members of the Mississippi River Improvement association told the rivers and harbors board Wednesday there was a potential annual traffic of more than 8 millions tons for the stream.

Theodore Brent, of New Orleans, traffic counselor of the association, said crude oil is generally regarded as an ideal cargo for water transportation and that barge lines on the Arkansas could carry approximately 8 million tons of oil each year from the Oklahoma oil fields.

Colonel Isham Randolphh, president of the association, estimated that a 9-foot channel with 36 locks and dams could be constructed to Muskogee at a cost of approximately 136 million dollars.

Bank protection would cost 47 millions, he said.

Republicans Win Vermont Election

Elect Senator and Two of Three Congress Candidates

MONTPELIER, Vt.—(AP)—Republican candidates for two of Vermont's three seats in congress—one in the senate and one in the house of representatives—won an easy victory Tuesday in a special election that brought out a light vote marked by a slight gain, proportionately, over that recorded by the party's candidates in 1932.

Ernest W. Gibson, of Brattleboro, who resigned after 10 years in the national house to become a candidate for the seat in the senate made vacant by the death last fall of Senator Porter H. Dale, defeated Harry W. Witters, democrat, of St. Johnsbur, by a margin of approximately 8000 votes out of a total of less than 50,000.

G. D. Bonner Dies, Burial Wednesday

Heading Mill Employe Succumbs to Pneumonia Fever

Pneumonia fever Tuesday afternoon caused the death of George Duncan Bonner, 55, Hope Heading mill worker, at his home on North Main street. Mr. Bonner had been ill hardly a week.

Funeral services were to be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence, conducted by the Rev. T. L. Epton, pastor of Garrett Memorial Baptist church. Burial was to follow in Rose Hill cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, two daughteres and a son. Mr. Bonner had lived in Hope about 15 years.

Mdivani Brothers Face Fraud Trial

Princes Who Married American Girls Looted Oil Company, Charge

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—An attempt to convict the former Princes David and Serge Mdivani of looting the Pacific Shore Oil company of $30,747 began here Tuesday with a jury of 10 middle aged married women and two married men sitting in judgment.

The recently divorced husbands, respectively, of Mae Murray, screen actress, and Mary McCormic, opera singer, sat in court as the jury was sworn in and Prosecutor David L'Esperance began delivery of a long opening statement in which he said the state would show the brothers misappropriated oil company funds over a period of 2½ years.

Despite the rival attraction across the hall—the trial in which Mae West, notion picture star, testified as the prosecutinv witness in a jewel robbery case—the courtroom where the Mdivanis faced grand theft charges was packed with spectators.

Attorneys for the accused brothers said they wohld not only enter a general denial of the charges but would contend the case was a civil rather than a criminal matter and would ask a transfer accordingly.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"Don't let them know I'm here. I have work to do."

It Pays to Be a Hired Man

ITHACA, N. Y.—(AP)—Since 1920 hired men have received more for their time than have farm operators, it is reported by S. W. Warren in "Farm Economics," a bulletin issued through Cornell University. In 1920-24 the average labor income of farmers was $186 as compared with hired men's wages of $545.

Patrick Henry delivered his famous oration at St. Jouhn's Church, Richmond, Va.

Political Announcements

The Star is authorized to announce the following as candidates subject to the action of the Democratic primary election in August, 1934.

For Sheriff
GEORGE W. SCHOOLEY

Frigidaire was chosen by Martha McDonald for the

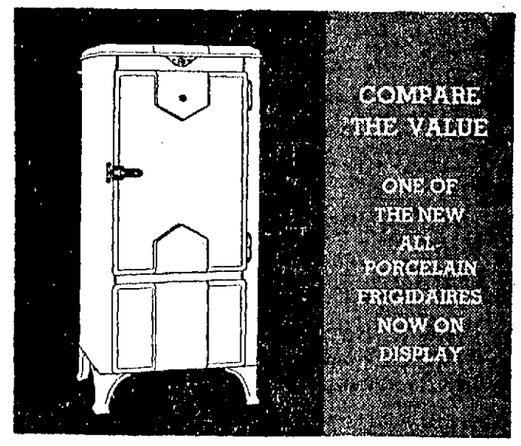

Cooking School

"Frigidaire gives you correct preservation of foods, at a lower cost than the old method of refrigeration, I wouldn't keep house without one," says Mrs. McDonald.

COMPARE

THIS BIG ALL-PORCELAIN FRIGIDAIRE

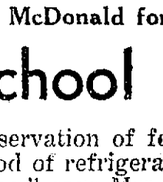

WITH ANY OTHER REFRIGERATOR

The easiest way to discover how the new Frigidaire excels is to compare it with other refrigerators.

Compare Frigidaire's classic streamline design with the cabinet styles of yesterday. This cabinet is of lifetime porcelain—inside and out—and there's ⅓ more food space in the same sized cabinet. It has automatic defrosting and automatic ice tray releasing. The interior is electrically lighted. Shelves are adjustable to any height. There's double Hydrator capacity and a cold storage compartment.

You owe it to yourself to compare before spending a penny for an electric refrigerator. Start today by seeing the new Frigidaires now on display in our showroom.

Two large Hydrators instead of one in this new All-Porcelain Frigidaire.

No more sticking ice trays. They release automatically in the new Frigidaires.

FRIGIDAIRE

A General Motors Value

Phone 89 for Demonstration.

A. M. Westmoreland, Appliance Dept.

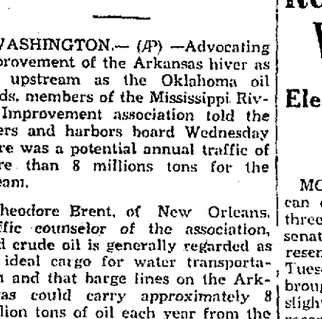

Hempstead County Lumber Company

113 East Third Street

The Cooking School Range

Magic Chef — American Stove Company

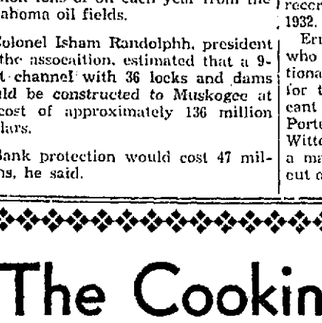

now being demonstrated on the stage at the Saenger Theater, during the Hope Star Cooking School.

Martha McDonald

shows you what a moden innovation in kitchen and cooking efficiency the Magic Chef range is.

Just received—a new shipment of Magic Chef ranges, in all colors, styles and sizes. Featuring the Red Wheel oven heat regulators—three-in-one non-clog burners—rackless, reversible broiling pan—Magic Chef automatic top lighter—insulated oven, and many other improvements.

On Sale This Week

Magic Chef ranges, priced for Cooking School week as low as

$49.50 UP

Register at the Cooking School for free prize daily, and grand prize at our store at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

Hope Furniture Co.

CALL FIVE

TAKE CARE

that your iodized salt bears this seal! If it doesn't it may not contain enough iodine to guard against simple goiter.*

ACCEPTED AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. Committee on Foods

NRA

10c

*Health department tests of various iodized salts showed some to be so lacking in iodine that they were worthless as goiter preventives (Journal of American Medical Association, Dec. 19, 1931).

WHEN IT RAINS, IT POURS

SOCIETY

MRS. SID HENRY TELEPHONE 321

A Lesson of Life

He dug a pit for his fellow-man,
And made it wide and deep;
He laughed and said, "He will never know"
I'm sure he lies asleep."
But when it was done, to his surprise,
He turned to look about,
And found he'd dug the pit so deep
Himself he couldn't get out.
—New York Times.

The New Crusade Day meeting, sponsored by the Womans Christian Temperance Union, will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Don Smith on South Elm street. An offering will be taken for the Lillian Stevens Legislative Fund.

—o—

The CWA workers at the Hope Library, under the supervision of Mrs. J. A. Henry have mended approximately 550 books, the process through which the books are taken, practically doubles the life of the book. The leaves are mended and rightly placed and re-sewed with linen thread; all edges trimmed for neatness, the backs are cleaned with buffers and art gum and taped. Two-thirds of these books have received new backs with book cloth, new titles and lettering, and new pockets and cards where needed. The Hope Library has grown from a few donated volumes with shelves on two sides of the room, to something over 7,000 volumes and shelves on all sides and aisle shelves practically filled with books, splendid reference books, the newest and latest fiction, with special stress being made on books for school reference and the juveniles. The library is open on two afternoons during the week, from 2 until 5 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday afternoons. The librarian asks that special attention be paid to the closing hour, 5 o'clock promptly, as this work is all volunteer work, and the co-operation of the members would be highly appreciated.

—o—

Mrs. J. S. Gibson, Mrs. H. D. Mayer, Mrs. J. E. Chambliss and Mrs. Vernon Gunn left Tuesday morning for El Dorado to attend the Arkansas Baptist convention, in session in that city this week.

—o—

Mrs. R. T. White and Mis Frances White left Wednesday morning for a few days visit with Miss Patricia McCarthy in Texarkana.

—o—

Circle No. 3 of the W. M. S. of the First Baptist church held their January meeting on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Owens on West Second street, with 11 members answering to the roll call. The meeting opened with the Lord's prayer, followed by a program on "The Beginning of the Missionary Enterprise," led by Mrs. Hugh Jones, assisted by Mrs. J. T. Hicks, Mrs. J. E. Schooley and Mrs. Anna Duffie. The business period was conducted by the Circle Leader, Mrs. Charles Haynes. During the social hour, the hostess served a most tempting salad course with tea.

—o—

Mrs. C. F. Onstead announces the marriage of her daughter, Janie to Johnny Coleman of Prescott. The wedding was solemnized in Prescott, on Tuesday evening, January 16. The bride is the eldest daughter of the late C. F. Onstead and Mrs. Onstead, is a popular member of Hope's younger set, in the Hope High School graduating class of '34. The bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coleman of Prescott, is also a member of the Prescott High School Class of '34. After a few days visit with relatives in Prescott and Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will be at home in Mablevale, Ark., where Mr. Coleman is employed by the Missouri Pacific railway.

—o—

Mrs. J. W. Beck of Dallas, Texas will arrive Wednesday afternoon for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. C. McNeil and Mr. McNeil.

The Choral Club will meet at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. M. LaGrone with Mrs. John Wellborn, assistant director in charge.

Hospital Notes

Dr. J. H. Weaver, Hempstead county coroner, Wednesday was ill in Josephine hospital. Physicians said his condition was not serious, but uncomfortable.

Dr. A. C. Kolb, member of Josephine hospital staff, Tuesday attended a board meeting of the State Hospital in Little Rock.

SAENGER
TONIGHT
(Wednesday)
Julia Chester Hospital Benefit
Warner BAXTER
Helen Vinson in
"AS HUSBANDS GO"
Thur & Fri Nites Only
Fredric MARCH
Gary COOPER
Miriam HOPKINS
in Noel Coward's
"DESIGN for LIVING"

Heiresses Out For a Stroll

Two heiresses, whose fathers are internationally famous in the business world, are shown here as they step out for a stroll on the Harvey Firestone estate at Miami, Fla. At the left is Helen Lee Doherty, daughter of Henry L. Doherty, utilities magnate, and at the right, Elizabeth Firestone, daughter of the tire manufacturer.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

Add Variety to Your Menu With Salsify—Vegetable Oyster Makes Tasty Soups and Salads.

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Staff Writer

Salsify or vegetable oyster is an inexpensive but very palatable winter vegetable that is often overlooked as a means of adding variety to menus. Like many of the root vegetables, it is much better after a frost touches it. A nippy frost sweetens it and makes it more tender.

Salsify requires a little more care in its preparation than most other vegetables. It is apt to become discolored as it is scraped and cut for cooking unless certain precautions are taken. Drop into water to which lemon juice or vinegar has been added as soon as the root is scraped and it will retain its natural color.

There are many ways of using salsify. Soups and salads are appetizing and nourishing. Combination dishes and various creamed mixtures are interesting and inviting. As most of the made dishes use milk together with other ingredients, much food value is provided when one of these concoctions is served.

When you go to market for the plant, choose small, firm roots. They are usually sold in bunches weighing from one-fourth to one-half pound and containing six roots. This amount will serve four to six persons.

The following recipe for cream of salsify soup is made particularly savory by the addition of salt codfish.

Cream of Salsify Soup

One bunch salsify, 2 tablespoons shredded codfish, 2 cups water, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon minced onion, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons flour.

Soak codfish in lukewarm water for half an hour. Scrape and slice roots, dropping slices in water to which 2 tablespoons of vinegar have been added. Cook codfish and salsify in water until vegetable is tender. Rub through a sieve and add with onion to milk. Heat over hot water for twenty minutes. Rub flour and butter to a smooth paste and add to first mixture. Cook until mixture thickens and add pepper. Bring to the boiling point, but do not let boil. Serve very hot.

A combination of hard cooked eggs and cooked sliced salsify makes an excellent luncheon or supper dish. The sliced vegetable and sliced eggs are arranged layer for layer in a butter baking dish. This is covered with buttered crumbs and baked in a moderately hot oven until delicately brown on top, about twenty minutes. Serve from baking dish.

Mock fried oysters are made by combining two cups of cooked and mashed salsify with ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 beaten egg and 1-8 teaspoon paprika. This mixture is formed in little cakes which are sauted in butter.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Oranges, cereal, cream, scrambled eggs, whole wheat muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Cream of salsify soup, corn sticks, cress and apple salad, rice souffle, milk, tea.

DINNER: Fruit cocktail, roast pork, browned potatoes, creamed green means, apple and celery salad, cranberry frappe, milk, coffee.

The Best COUGH SYRUP on the market
Cherrosote 8 oz. bottle 60c
For Itch or Eczema Use No. 200,000.
JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company
"The Rexall Store"

Special Service Bureau, Room 303, 461 Eighth Ave., New York, N. Y.

Enclosed find ten cents for which please send me one copy of "50 DESSERTS" by Sister Mary.

Name
Street
City

Hope, (Ark.) Star

Centerville

Miss Jean Givens called on Misses Glen, Vida and Marie Anders Wednesday.

Mr .and Mrs. Howard Erwin of Little Rock spent Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Will Erwin and family.

Miss Addie McElroy, Mrs. Mamie Sanders and children spent last Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Andy McElroy and family.

Mr. Clyde Arnold of Fulton called on Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Gleghorn last Thursday.

Mrs. Earl Erwin and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Will Erwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Jones and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Clara Givens Sunday night.

We are proud to have Mr. and Mrs. Pate move back to this community.

Miss Susie Erwin is spending this week with her brother, Mr. Howard Erwin and Mrs. Erwin of Little Rock.

Providence

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Phillips of Hope, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ray and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yates and family of Blevins and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watson and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Campbell.

We are very glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Roberts and family, of Holly Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and family of Shover Springs have moved into our community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gaines and family of Hope spent Sunday afternoon with relatives at this place.

Mrs. C. C. Browning spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. P. A. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Roberts spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Browning.

Zan Bateman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bateman of Hope.

An all-glass house that is asserted to exclude air, dirt, and bacteria was built by a Japanese scientist, ventilation being provided by air pumped from a distant point through filters.

a Julia Boyd Pattern — Cheerio—

A COAT to make any schoolgirl laugh at wintry winds is the model shown in the illustration. It is designed in five sizes: 8, 10, 12, 14 and 16. Size 12 requires 2 1-8 yards of 54-inch material plus 2 3-4 yards of 35-inch lining. To interline the collar, cuffs and fronts requires 2-3 yard of canvas or crinoline.

To secure a pattern and simple sewing chart of this model, tear out this sketch and mail it to Julia Boyd, 103 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y., together with 15 cents in coin. Be sure to enclose, on a separate sheet of paper, your name, full address, your size, the number of this pattern (No. 0018x), and mention the name of this newspaper.

BLUE RIBBON BREAD
Made of Gold Medal Flour
Good TO THE LAST CRUMB
Selected by Martha McDonald as the official Cooking School Bread—because it's made right—and made fresh. Of the best and purest foodstuffs.
CITY BAKERY
At Your Grocers

Scanning New Books

This Book Is Good—But It Isn't Very Pleasant

By BRUCE CATTON

"Passions Spin the Plot," by Vardis Fisher, is one of those books that almost everybody will praise very highly, but that hardly anyone really will enjoy reading.

It is a dark and passionate outburst against the cruelty of life, the tortures that sensitive youth must suffer, and the tragis conflict that can arise from a young American's maladjustment to his environment.

It is powerfully written, with flashes of somber beauty; but if you're looking for sweetness and light in your fiction, don't expect to find any here.

The central figure is a young Idaho farm boy who leaves his native valley and enrolls in a university in Salt Lake City. He is shy, dreamy, full of the repressions which a rigid puritanic background can create, rapt with anticipation of the new world opening before him.

But the new world plays him false. His profesors turn out to be the dry-as-dust stuffed shirts, his fellow students are either snobs or wastrels; he himelf is a misfit, twisted by desires he cannot satisfy and haunted by a dream that constantly recedes as he advances toward it.

Lonely, he centers his being on his love for a ranch girl back home. She is a scatter-brained little tramp, as it happens, an easy mark for all the lads of the village. Our hero knows it, despises her for it, despises himself for continuing to love her—and, at last, leaves the university and marries her in spite of everything.

As the book ends, he is beginning a marriage which cannot be anything but tragically unhappy.

"Passions Spin the Plot" is the second volume in the tetralogy of which "In Tragic Life" was the first. Published by Doubleday Doran and the Caxton Printers, it is priced at $2.50.

Culbertsons Out of Bridge Tourney

Champion and Wife Both Lose in National Play

NEW YORK—(AP)—The grand national championship of the United States Bridge Association will be settled without a Culberson.

Both were eliminated Sunday—Ely Culberson by a curious play from his partner, Theodore S. Lightner.

The finals Monday and Tuesday are between the team of Walter Malowan, Lee Langdon, Sidney Rusinow and L. Bachner, and David Burnstine, Oswald Jocaby, Howard Schenken and Michael Gottlieb, both from New York.

Culberson's team was washed into the discard by the Malowan team after Lightner made a luckless and expensive double.

"I have had a brainstorm," said Lightner.

Culbertson said of Lightner:

"I'll still choose him as my partner against the world."

Mrs. Culbertson's team lost to the Jacoby team by 2740 points.

The finals Monday and Tuesday will run 100 boards.

Book Translated For Russia

MINNEAPOLIS—(AP)—A textbook, "Outlines of Biochemistry," written by Dr. R. A. Gortner of the University of Minnesota, is being translated into Russian by the central biochemical research institute of the food industry, Russian government, Moscow.

Family Washing
NRA
Fully Finished 10c Per Pound
NELSON Huckins

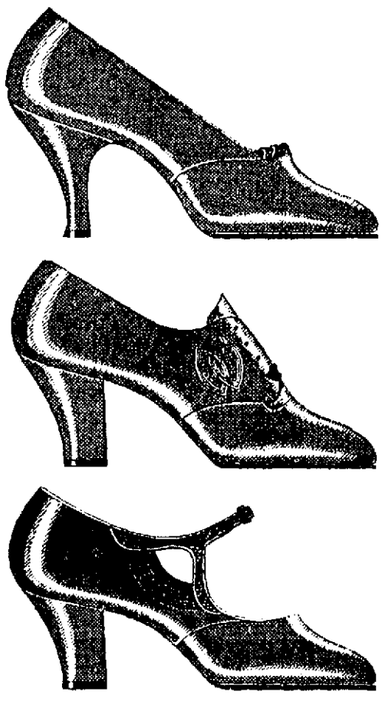

TIME TO PLANT
Garden:
Alaska Peas
Scarlet Globe Radishes
Lettuce
Carrots
Beets
Spinach
Cabbage
Turnips
Mustard
Tendergreen
Parsley
Flowers:
Snapdragons
Sweet Peas
Nasturtiums
Pansies
Also time to spray your fruit trees with Oil Emulsion or Lime Sulphur.
A most complete line of Garden, Flower and Field Seeds, also Insecticides and Supplies preparitory to the coming prosperity of 1934.
Beginning February 10th We Will Have Oakcrest Baby Chicks at All Times
MONTS SEED STORE
PLANTS, SEEDS, INSECTICIDES
110 East Second Street

Ladies Specialty Shop
"Exclusive But Not Expensive"
Early Spring Arrivals In
GEORGIANA FROCKS

Selected by Martha McDonald
$1.69
"I think the Georgiana dresses, as featured by Mrs. Thomas' shop, are the most beautiful wash frocks of this season, and at the lowest prices, that I have seen, styles and material considered."
You will like these new Spring Georgiana frocks . . . you will be immensely pleased with their clever styling, their excellent workmanship, their fine materials, you will certainly enjoy wearing them—by al means see them! Guaranteed fast colors. Sizes 14 to 46.
One Georgiana Frock Given Free at the Cooking School Thursday Afternoon

Chosen by Martha McDonald who is conducting the Hope Star Cooking School.
SELBY STYLEEZ SHOES

Mrs. McDonald proved to be a big booster of Selby Styleez shoes.
"There is no need buying bargain shoes when you can get such style, and such foot comfort, and such wear, from Selby shoes, for only $6.00. That is the best shoe bargain I know of."
The price, however, at Robison's, in place of $6.00 is only
$4.98
A Typical Robison Year-Round Saving
Illustrated at the top is a clever pump in black, blue or brown kid. All sizes.
A four eyelet tie with attractive trim and popular heel, in black or brown kid.
This splendid shoe, in black kid, is one of the smartest of Selby's Styleez one-straps.
Many other styles that are smartly designed, yet comfortable.
THE LEADING DEPARTMENT STORE
Geo. W. Robison & Co.
GE GIVE EAGLE TRADING STAMPS
HOPE NASHVILLE PRESCOTT

Married Flirts

by MABEL McELLIOTT

©1933 NEA Service, Inc.

HERE'S HERE TODAY

AUDREY MORELL and TOM WEAVER are married the same day as LILA HOTALING and DEREK BLISS. Lila expects to live in luxury, while Gypsy intends to go on with her job, teaching in a settlement school.

After returning from her honeymoon in Europe Lila invites the Weavers to dinner. Among the guests is wealthy MARKO BIRDUSITCH, who once asked Gypsy to marry him. He showers her with attentions which she accepts because she is jealous of Tom's interest in HILDA BLANCHARD. After the party Tom and Gypsy quarrel, but peace is later restored.

Shopping for Christmas, Gypsy meets Broughton who offers her a job cataloguing his library. Gypsy hesitates, then agrees, planning to use the money thus earned to buy Tom's Christmas gift. Broughton gives her an advance payment of $50.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XII

LILA held her white arm out and Derek slipped the bracelet over it. He turned her hand upward and kissed the palm.

"It suits you, Loveliness," he told her.

Lila smiled. All her life she had been smiling sweetly when people talked to her like that. It was like the breeze blowing or the sun shining. She expected it. It was part of her very existence. You didn't have fair hair and an exquisite figure, like a Tanagra figurine, for nothing.

This bracelet was of flawless workmanship. There were sapphires in it and diamonds of the first water. On Lila's chaise longue in the cherry and white room upstairs lay a supple fur wrap, another gift from Derek. Queenlike, Lila accepted all this as her just due.

Derek said, "I wish we could have dinner here, all by ourselves, by the fire. I wish we needn't . . ."

Lila frankly stared. "What? Not go to Marko's? Ridiculous!"

"I know." Derek set his jaw. "Isn't it? But that's what I wish, just the same. Let's call him up . . ."

She interrupted him, horror-struck. "Derek Bliss, you'll do nothing of the sort. Offend Marko! He's expecting us. Besides, it'll be fun. I'm looking forward to it. I got that new cream lace at Sylvia's just to wear today."

"Oh, I suppose you're right. It's a duty." Derek shrugged his shoulders.

"That's a darling," Lila approved him softly, having made her point. "Run along and dress. Marko insisted on having dinner at a ridiculous hour—five o'clock—but I suppose one must do mad things on Christmas day."

Derek went upstairs on laggard feet. This, he told himself rather drearily, wasn't Christmas. Why, as a kid, back home in Vermont, he had loved all the panoply of the season: the tree, smelling spicy and tantalizing; the carols in the snow; the candle-lighted windows—everything about it. He had even (he smiled to think of it now) liked to go to church on Christmas day. The little old meeting house had had a special holiday odor, compounded of fir boughs and resin and woodsmoke. Well, no one he knew nowadays went to church. On Christmas they behaved much the same as any other day of the year. They had cocktails, told the same old jokes.

* * *

"IT'S a deadly life. I hate it," grumbled the young man to himself, shaving before the crystal mirror in his modernistic dressing room. And yet he knew, in his heart of hearts, that he would go on with it. There was nothing else to do. Lila—bless her heart for an angel and a beauty!—was used to this sort of existence.

"I'll bet those Weaver kids are having fun," he told himself, with a gleam of humor. "I bet they've got a toy tree with silver balls and all the rest of it." He liked Gypsy. He thought her "a good sport." Tom seemed a nice chap, too. What a game they had made of the little supper at their house that Sunday night! He had thoroughly enjoyed himself. Lila hadn't, though. Funny how women were about the social racket. Now, he'd been brought up very simply, himself. His father had been the village doctor and there had been no frills about his boyhood. Lila was different. She wasn't content unless she had real lace on the fingerbowl doilies. Gypsy's little party had bored her, she said afterward. Not that she wasn't fond of Gypsy. She was. "But we must have them over here," she had decided. "They just can't do any entertaining in that little box of an apartment. It's absurd to try."

Derek had opened his mouth to protest but had stopped, just in time. He was learning things about Lila. She hated to be disagreed with. Not that she hadn't a wonderful disposition, said Derek loyally, but she was just spirited . . . imperious. Rather nervous, too, these days. He rather thought she smoked too much, though he didn't like to suggest that.

He had worked himself into a more cheerful frame of mind by the time he'd finished shaving. A glance out of the high windows assured him of the fact that it was snowing again. Good enough! That, at any rate, insured the Kris Kringle touch.

Lila was beautiful in the soft brown fur. What a lucky chap he was to have her! He'd been a fool to think he could keep her all to himself this afternoon. She was far too lovely to stay hidden.

* * *

THE party at Marko's was in full swing when they arrived. Marko had the entire top floor of an exclusive apartment hotel in the east sixties. A man servant with an impassive face let them in. He was a new one. Derek had never seen him before. The noise struck him like a blow, when the door swung inward. Noise of radio music, of heightened human voices, of slipping feet. People were dancing. Marko had a crowd, as usual.

Lila was in her element. She called greetings to half a dozen people in the foyer as she passed through. Derek felt a nervous twitching in his cheek. Well, after a drink or two he wouldn't mind the racket so much. That was one comfort.

His host greeted him. Marko was in high feather. He was bubbling with gaiety. Had Derek seen the tree? Ah, he hadn't? But he must—at once. Someone take Mr. Bliss to the dining room. Lila, whispered Marko in the younger man's ear, had chosen the decorations for him. Charming! Everyone admired them so.

Derek, in the wake of a blond youth he remembered seeing in Marko's private office the week before, found the tree no familiar affair of laden fir boughs and tinsel, but an artificial one, a modernistic tree in silver, all angles. Blue stars appeared at intervals in its travestied branches. Derek stared, but there was no admiration in his eyes. Was this Lila's idea of a Christmas tree? Almost he shuddered, but remembered himself in time.

"Clever, isn't it?"

He recalled himself, and nodded to the youth beside him.

The evening wore on. Dinner, a many-coursed affair, was served, toyed with, ended. Derek noticed plate after plate carried away untouched. The glasses were filled and emptied. The red roses drooped in their silver vases.

Marko was taking them all to a revue, one of the gayest. That Derek and Lila had seen it more than once—three times, in fact—did not matter. The party filed down the aisle after the second act had opened, occasioning much ssh-ing and craning of necks among the rest of the audience. Derek found himself next to a young woman in ice blue satin. She had brown curls. For no good reason, she reminded him of Gypsy Weaver.

She flirted with him outrageously during intermission. He was properly gallant, said all the right things. Under his mask of impassivity, he was terribly bored.

* * *

WHAT was wrong with him, anyhow? Last year when he'd been wooing Lila, he hadn't minded the noise and the racket. It had all seemed part of living.

His head felt hot, empty, aching as he handed Lila out of the car and followed her into the entrance of their building. A clock some place, not far away, struck four. The city was bathed in moonlight now. The snow had stopped. Two scrubwomen, on their way to work down the avenue, stopped to call "Merry Christmas" to each other. Derek envied them. "Merry Christmas!" And they really meant it!

"What's wrong with you, darling?" Lila's tone was fretful. She slipped out of the sleek brown fur and Derek caught it. "You've been glum as an oyster all evening. I'm sure everyone noticed it. The life of the party."

He flung his coat down and ripped open his tie. "I don't know. It just went dead on me."

She cocked an eyebrow at him. "Snap out of it, young fellow me lad. Marko likes bright faces about him."

Marko! Was he ever to behave as he wanted? Was he tied to the chariot of Mammon forever? Derek choked back some bitter words.

"What did you say?" Lila had gone into her own room now. Her sweet, fretful tones came to him dimly.

"Nothing, dearest. Only I'm sorry if I was a wet blanket."

He came to stand at her door. She was in pale rose satin now, her slim arms glimmering through cascades of creamy lace. She patted back a yawn.

"You were. Don't let it happen again." Her tone was ever so gently humorous, but he sensed the real warming behind it.

"You had a good time, anyhow."

She bridled. "Naturally. I like Marko's parties. They have so much zip to them."

"Is that what you call it?" Derek was thoughtful, but Lila chose to accept the remark as sarcasm.

"Don't be clever in the dawning, pet." She gave him her cool cheek to kiss.

"I'm dead. Good night."

Derek went down into the high ceiled living room to finish his cigaret. He would have to be up early, and to the office, but somehow he did not want to go to bed and to sleep just now. He wanted to think things out. Whither was he drifting?

(To Be Continued)

Divorce is being forced on her by the husband who helped Hilf to avenge her wrongs, Mrs. Thalia Massie declared as she stopped in Chicago on her way to Reno. She is shown here aboard her train. She will file suit against Lieut. Thomas Massie, who was convicted in 1932, with others, of slaying a Hawaiian who attacked her, and was imprisoned for one hour.

Blevins

Miss Catherine Brown spent the week end with her sister Mrs. Roy Foster and Mr. Foster.

Mrs. T. J. Stewart, Miss Charline Stewart and Dwight, were shopping in Hope Wednesday.

Mr. B. R. Hamm and Mr. A. D. Brannan of Hope were business visitors in Blevins Friday.

Mrs. Dove Knott is working in Hope at present.

Miss Hazel Spears of the Sweet Home community was the week end guest of Miss Marie Ward.

Miss Emma Phillips of near Prescott spent the week end with her father, Tom Phillips of Blevins.

Lawrence Cullins, Ed Chamlee and Will Cummings were shopping in Hope Saturday.

Mrs. Calvin Honea spent Saturday in Hope.

Mrs. Dennis Walker of Prescott and Miss Brooksie Nell Gorham of McCaskill were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Gorham.

Mrs. Joe Bailey, Mrs. Garland White, Elmer Bell were business visitors in Prescott Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wade and Miss Dorothy Fae Wade, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Austin were Hope visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Jack Breeze of Memphis, Tenn., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Nesbitt.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Merritt and Naomi were Saturday evening guests of Mrs. S. H. Battle and Mrs. Ella Bright.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stephens Jr., Mrs. H. M. Stephens Sr., and Mrs. P. C. Stephens Jr., are spending this week in San Antonio, Texas.

Miss Esther Stephens spent the week end visiting friends in Murfreesboro.

Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Arrington were Hope visitors Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Citty of Ozan were the week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Finley Goodlett.

K. B. Spears and Warren Nesbitt were business visitors in Hope Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Stewart spent Sunday afternoon in Prescott.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawie Stone of McCaskill were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Honea, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bonds were shopping in Hope Monday.

Misses Charline Stewart and Delores Ferry, Mr. and Mrs. Wess Hendrix were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wade.

Tokio

H. R. Holt was a business visitor to Little Rock Wednesday.

Dr. W. B. Dorman and Forest Wilson of Nashville were bird hunting in this vicinity Thursday.

L. A. Steuart and Hershel Wisdom were business visitors to Bingen Friday.

Mrs. W. H. Edmiaston of Bingen and Mrs. Henry Edmiaston of Nashville visited Mrs. A. C. Holt Thursday.

John F. Reese of Nashville, was a business visito rto Tokio Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatch returned to their home Wednesday at Fulton after several days visit with relatives here.

Mrs. Mary Tribble left Wednesday for an extended visit with relatives at Fulton.

Henry Lockeby was a business visitor to Murfreesboro Thursday.

Mrs. John D. Baker of Mineral Springs spnet Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Higgins.

Tallie Harris of Roy was a Tokio visitor Thursday.

Mrs. Homer Smith of Mineral Springs spent Suday with relatives here.

Mrs. Quinton Sanford is visiting relatives at Mineral Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Harris of Nashville are spending a few days here with their parents.

A. B. Woods was a business visitor to Hope Thursday.

Mrs. Tiffen Kelley and children of Murfreesboro spent Sunday here with relatives.

H. R. Holt and daughter Miss Dee were Nashville visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Nellie Steurat and family spent Saturday night and Sunday with relatives at Nashville.

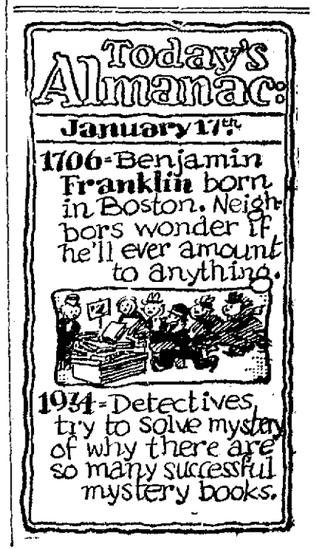

Mrs. Paul Gosnell of Bingen was a Tokio visitor Monday.

Fierce Forterfield of McCaskill was a Tokio visitor Monday.

Where 200 Died in France's Worst Rail Disaster

Ten miles from the Marne battlefield, where 19 years ago ambulances, taxis and trucks carried off war dead and wounded, there occurred a repetition of this grim scene when, in the little town of Lagny, 200 persons perished in the collision of two express trains. The wreck, called the worst rail disaster in French history, is shown here in one of the first pictures of the tragedy to reach this country.

Personal to a lady

THIS evening when your husband comes home, what would be think if you greeted him in the wedding dress you wore a good many years ago? One thing sure—he'd silently wonder how you could have seemeds o lovely then in an outfit that looks so oldfashioned now.

We wonder if your husband realizes there has been as much change in furniture as in wedding dresses? (Remember what you told him the other day, "Most of the furniture in this house was bought right after we were married.")

There is no better time than now to greet him in that wedding dress—and then show him the furniture advertisements in the newspaper! And it will probably surprise you to learn he is as interested as you are. Men don't like to go through the stores to shop. But it's quite easy to get them to read over the advertisements in the quiet of your home.

Wouldn't today be a good time to get him to say "yes" about that new furniture you've been wanting?

Hope Star

17th Century Author

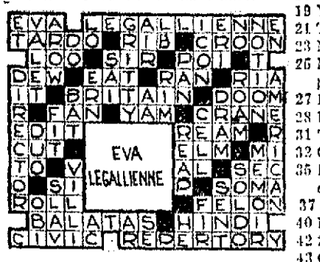

HORIZONTAL

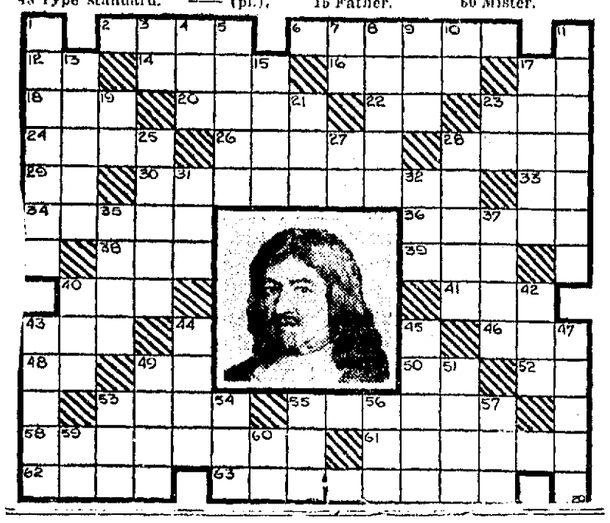

2, 6 Who was the author in the picture?
12 Exists.
14 Circlet.
16 Hard fat.
17 To subsist.
18 Modern.
20 Offspring.
22 Right.
23 Mire.
24 Leg joint.
26 Scrutinizes.
28 Money.
29 Half an em.
30 He was jailed as a non-conformist —— (pl.).
33 To depart.
34 Proportion.
36 Diner.
38 To perform.
39 To handle.
40 Pronoun.
41 Encountered.
43 Chum.
46 Turf.
48 Type standard.
49 And.
50 Bone.
52 Nay
53 Entrance.
55 Stray animal.
58, 63 His world famous book.
61 To acquiesce.
62 To stop.

VERTICAL

1 He earned his living as a —— (pl.).
3 Sound of surprise.
4 Pin in quoits.
5 Scandinavians.
7 You and me.
8 Sick attendant.
9 Still.
10 Preposition.
11 He was imprisoned at ——, England, in 1660.
13 Herb.
15 Father.
17 To jut out.
19 You and I.
21 Twitching.
23 Myself.
25 Narrative poems.
27 Exclamation.
28 Hymn.
31 To decay.
32 Corded cloth.
35 End of a dress coat.
37 Nautical ropes.
40 Meat.
42 2000 lbs.
43 Cheeps.
44 Bustle.
45 Violence.
47 Widow's right
49 Sharp.
51 Membranous bags.
53 Wing.
54 Point.
55 Within
56 Sailor.
57 Affirmative.
59 Neuter pronoun.
60 Mister.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Old Machine Runs Like New

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(AP)—A threshing machine that runs just about as good as new after 34 years' service is owned by the Osborne brothers, farmers of Meador, Ky. J. H. Atkerson, agricultural agent of Allen county, found the machine in operation and established that reports of its age were authentic.

Sell It! Find It! Rent It! Buy It! in the Hope Star

Market Place

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c
For consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad.

3 times, 6c line, min. 50c
6 times 5c line, min. 90c
26 times, 3½c line, min. $2.70
(Average 5½ words to the line)

NOTE—Want ads may be charged with the understanding that the bill is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

HELP WANTED

WANTED: Salesman to demonstrate and take orders for a high quality coffee in Hope and surrounding territory. Commissions and bonus. Apply Mr. Beck Thursday and Friday at Capital Hotel. 16-3tp

WANTED: Dealer in Hempstead county to handle the Maytag Line. Walter Light, 813 Main Street, Little Rock, Arkansas. 16-3tp

Bird Roofs! Hope Bldg. Material Co.

SALESMAN WANTED

Times are better—business increasing—conditions improving. Start selling now. A real opportunity is open for you, distributing direct to the farm trade a full line of home remedies and household products. Many make $30.00 weekly or more at start. Write quickly for free catalogue.

G. C. HEBERLING COMPANY
Dept. 43 Bloomington, Illinois
15, 3c

NOTICE

Special rates. Family finish rates. Shirts 10c. Curtains measured and placed on stretchers. Dry cleaning. Wool blankets, Comforts, Quilts and flat work. Hope Steam Laundry. Phone 148. 12-6c

Sash! Doors! Hope Bldg. Material Co.

LOST

LOST—Four year old female setter with brown spots, wearing plain collar. $5.00 reward. Phone 346. C. C. McNeil. 6-7tc

FOUND

FOUND — Green-colored fountain pen. Owner may receive pen by paying for this ad. 17-1tc

FOR SALE

FOR SALE—Used 8 tube cabinet model Majestic radio. In perfect condition and carries new guarantee. Price $29.50. Convenient terms if desired. Hope Music Co. 17-3t-c

You will find Mrs. J. W. Ray's Butter at Boswell's Grocery. It is always fresh. 16-6tc

FOR SALE—Thoroughbred Boston Bull Pup. Mrs. Chas. West, Red Lake, Fulton, Ark. 15-3tp

Wallpaper! Hope Bldg. Material Co.

Good sweet potatoes, 65c bushel. Sorghum syrup, 40c gallon. Phone 768. W. H. Gaines. 669 South Hervey.

Defending U. S. at Montevideo

When a Cuban delegate attacked the intervention policy of the United States at the Pan-American conference, it was Dr. Carlos Saavedra Lamas, Argentine Foreign minister, who took up the cudgels in our defense. He is here shown rebuking the Cuban at the meeting of the committee on new economic matters, of which he is chairman

Ground Broken For Arts Colony

IOWA CITY, Ia.—(AP)—Following three years of planning, ground has been broken for the University of Iowa's fine arts colony. An $82,000 grant from the federal public works administration, coupled with the original gift of $100,000 by the Carnegie corporation, will finance the building, which is expected to be completed in nine months.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

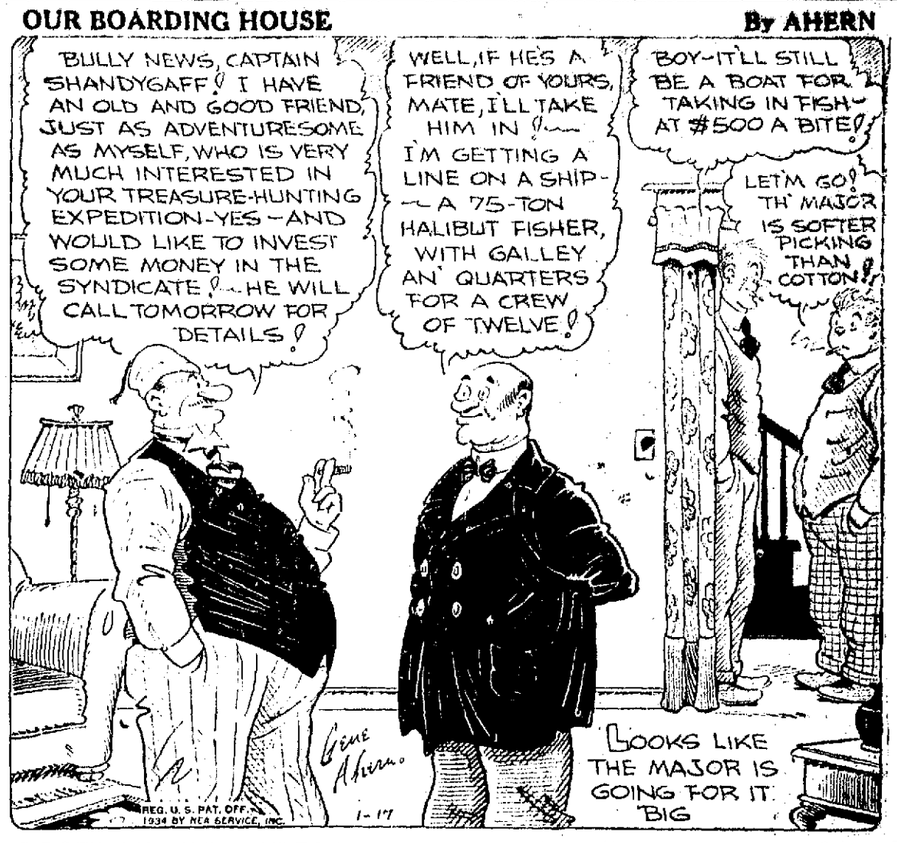

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back. (adv.)

Children's Coughs Need Creomulsion

Always get the best, fastest and surest treatment for your child's cough or cold. Prudent mothers more and more are turning to Creomulsion for any cough or cold that starts.

Creomulsion emulsifies creosote with six other important medicinal elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes. It is not a cheap remedy, but contains no narcotics and is certain relief. Get a bottle from your druggist right now and have it ready for instant use. (adv.)

OUR BOARDING HOUSE — By AHERN

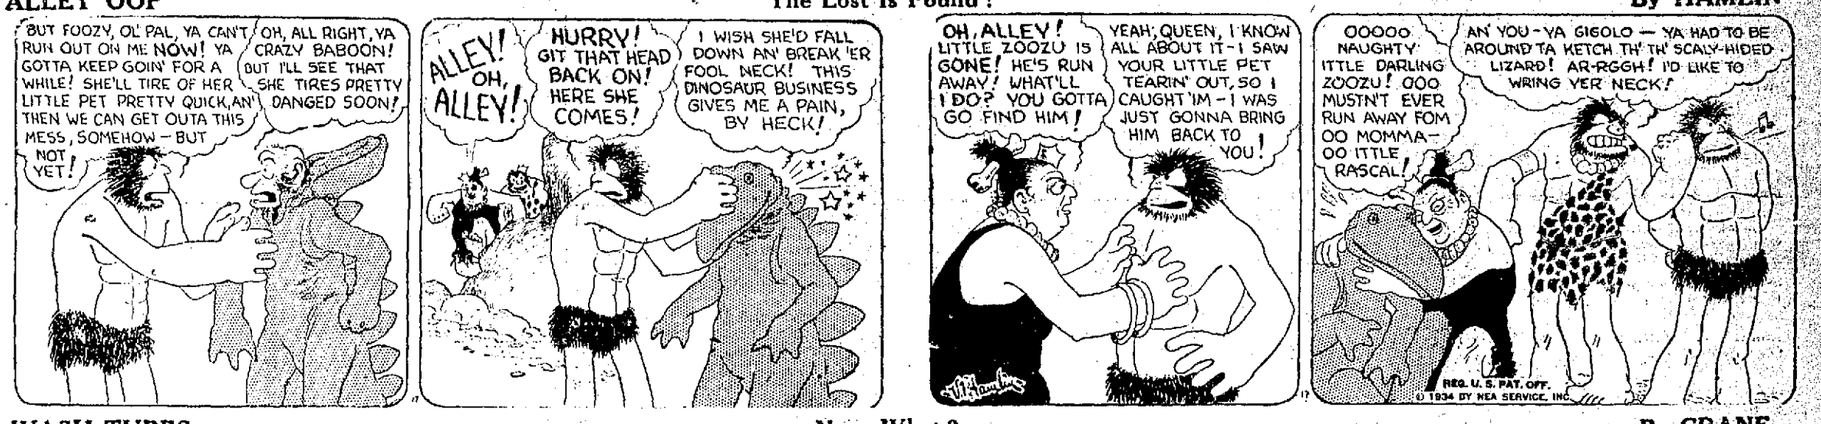

OUT OUR WAY — By WILLIAMS

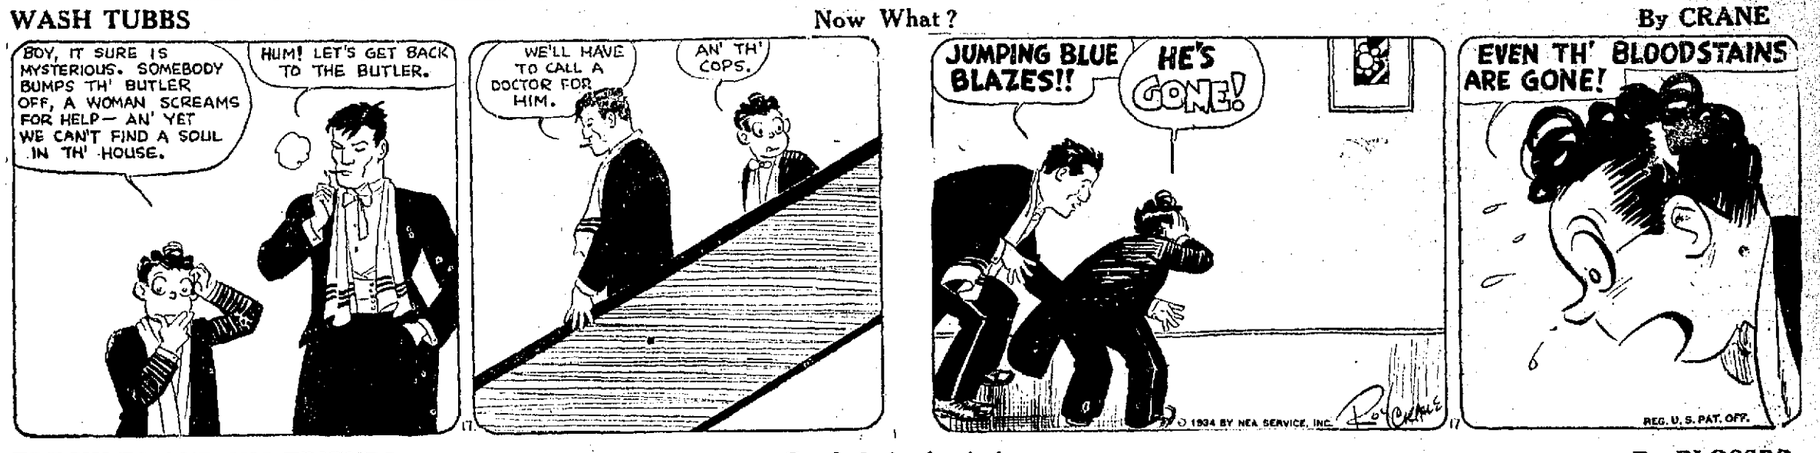

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES — Steve Balks! — By MARTIN

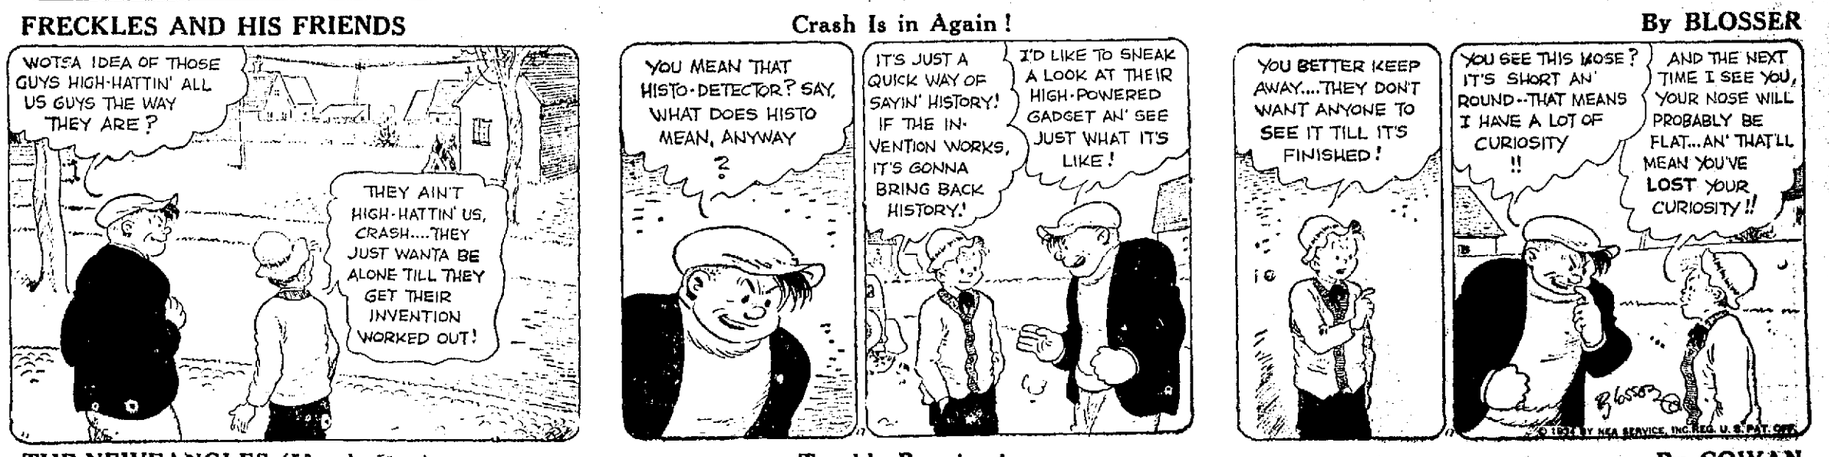

ALLEY OOP — The Lost Is Found! — By HAMLIN

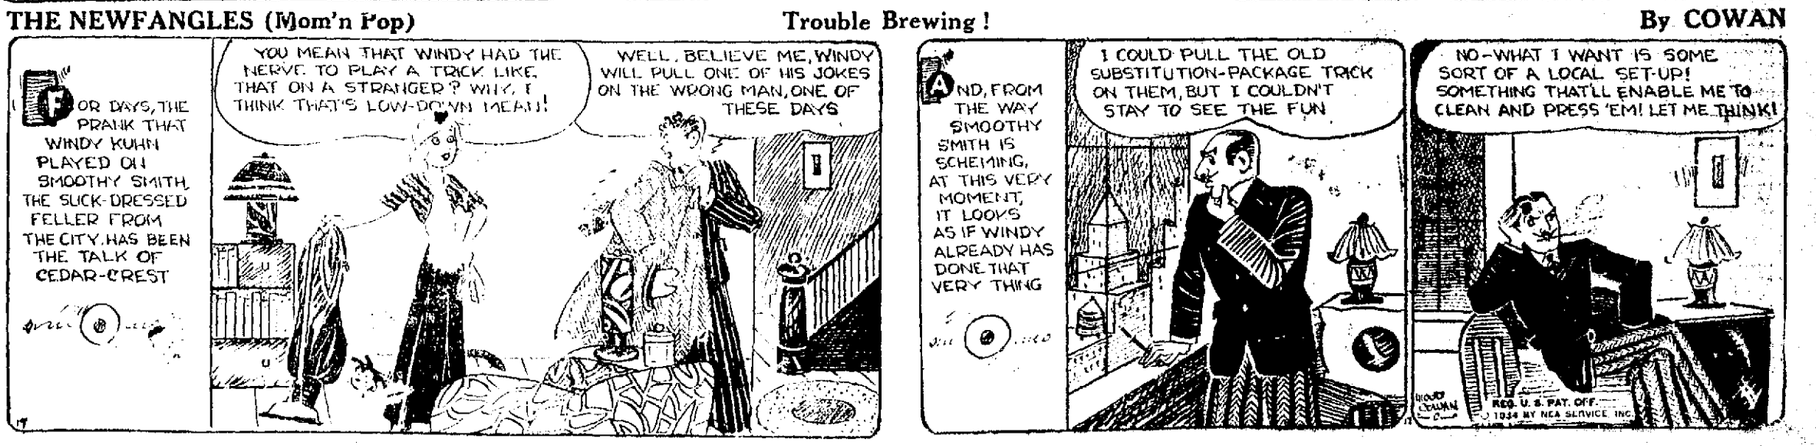

WASH TUBBS — Now What? — By CRANE

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS — Crash Is in Again! — By BLOSSER

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop) — Trouble Brewing! — By COWAN

Holly Grove

Sunday school was well attended here Sunday.

Mrs. Herman Worthy of Jakajones spent Saturday with Mrs. Carl Evans.

Mr. A. M. Clark of DeAnn was a business visitor in this community Friday.

We are glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Bowden to move in this community.

Miss Jettie Watkins spent the week end with home folks at New Hope.

Miss Beatrice Hembree spent Thursday night with Miss Lucy Bell Lloyd of DeAnn.

Mrs. Maudie Elliott and Mrs. Lillian Roberts called on Mrs. Ollie Evans Saturday afternoon.

Bro. Rogers will fill his regular appointment here Sunday afternoon. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Willis spent Sunday night with Mr. J. F. Willis and family.

The mmusical given at Mr. Payne's Saturday night was enjoyed by all who attended.

Mrs. Martha Hembree spent Monday with Mrs. Maude Elliott.

Little Allisue and Denvil Hembree spent Sunday with Little Mr. Dale Atkins.

Washington

School opened Monday morning, the 15th, after being suspended since December 15, on account of work being done on the building.

Guy Card and family of Hope visited in town on Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Wilson Jr., and two children of Columbus were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Levins Monday.

Miss Lorena Darnall of Columbus spent the week-end with Miss Roberta Stuart.

Dr. Martindale was in town on business Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Card visited Shover Springs Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hawthorne age 75 years and 10 months, passed away Friday, morning January 12 at 8 o'clock at her home two miles south west of town. She had been in declining health for several months, she is survived by one brother of Fort Smith, Ark., one son Jawes Phelps and one adopted son, Ernest, of Washington, also other relatives and friends. She was laid to rest Saturday morning in Washington cemetery.

Russell Rowe of C. C. C. camp was at home for the week end.

Mr. Martin and family of Route I has moved into the house vacated by Jim Page and family.

Mrs. O'Steen and family are occupying rooms with Mrs. T. J. Robinson and family on Franklin street.

Mrs. Paul Rowe and Mrs. W. I. Stroud motored to Spring Hill Friday evening and Miss Julia Bearden returned with them for a week-end visit with home folks.

The canning kitchen and sewing room under the supervision of Mrs. Lat Moses and Mrs. Butler are running on full schedule.

Work is progressing nicely on the courthouse, under the CWA and is improving the appearance of the building very much.

Several from this place attended the ball game in Hope Thursday night.

W. E. Elmore, T. G. Haynes and Aubrey O'Steen were business visitors to Hope Saturday.

American Seized As Spy in Paris

Accused as a spy by the French government, Robert Gordon Switz, above, East Orange, N. J., aviator, is held prisoner in Paris with his wife and eight other suspects. Military documents of great importance were seized when the arrests were made, authorities claimed, labeling the capture the greatest spy exposure in recent years.

Hickory Shade

Health is not so good in this community. Some have colds, some we are told have chicken pox.

Sunday school and church was very well attended here Sunday. Bro. Ross delivered two good sermons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Prescot of Emmet spent Saturday night with her mother Mrs. Bradford. They attended church at Hickory Shade Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Murle Richards spent from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday morning with Mr. and Mrs. Odis Sims.

Miss Virginia Galloway was the dinner guest of Miss Alta Bruce Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Willette and baby, Vincent, spent Saturday night and Sunday with their mother, Mrs. Rogers and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Sinclair and Mrs. Bradford visited Mr. and Mrs. John McSwiney of Artisia Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray and family are moving from our community up near Oakland. We wish them success in their new home.

Leroy Easterling is spending a few days with his brother and sister, Mrs. Babel Simms and Rennie Easterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Easterling of Rocky Mound visited relatives in this community Wednesday night and Thursday of last week.

The party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Monday was well attendad and enpoyed by those present.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rogers, Mrs. Malone and daughter, were dinner guests of Mrs. Rogers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Terry and two little boys, spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McKamie of Spring Hill.

Misses Elsie and Nadine Pool, Luke Nevins and Julian Barnes attended church at Hickory Shade Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yokom and Mrs. Mary Yokum of Spring Hill visited their daughter and sister Mrs. Joe Ross Sunday.

Miss Rosalee Brown of Emmet were the dinner guests of Miss Mittie Ree Rogers Sunday night.

Mrs. Wren was the dinner guest of Mrs. Carnes Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Ross of Emmet called on their parents Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ross Sunday and attended church here.

Prof George Hughes from Oklahoma will sing at Hickory Shade church next Sunday night.

'Design for Living' to Show Thursday

Amusing Comedy of Platonic Love That Wouldn't Work

Ernst Lubitsch's brand new Paramount picture, "Design for Living" comes to the Saenger Thursday and Friday nights only.

It has for its leading players Fredric March, Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins and Edward Everett Horton and from Noel Coward's sensational stage success of the same name.

Paramount, struck with the amusing entertainment possibilities of the stage play, bougt it for a Lubitsch picture and placed a most important cast in the film.

On a Paris-bound train, Miriam Hopkins, vivacious young artist, first meets the two men who are to change her life. They are George Curtis, also an artist and Tom Chambers playwright, played by Cooper and March respectively.

Tom and George both fall madly in love with her. To further complicate matters, Miss Hopkins falls in love too. Only she is too fond of Tom to tell him she loves George, and she loves George too much to hurt to tell him about Tom.

After lengthy discussions, the problem is solved. She is to live with them, but she will be a mother of the arts. Sex is out entirely.

So with this goal for their happiness, the three of them settle down together in their triangular love-nest. But happiness isn't won so easily, and the manner in which they eventually do get-together brings the picture to a most amusing ending.

Bodcaw No. 1

There has been several cases of measles in this community but most of them are better at this writing.

Mrs. O. L. Mitchell spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Joe England near Hope, who has a very sick child.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Fuller of Stamps spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fuller.

Gilbert Fuller and three sons, A. G., Lindell and Denver Lee, are improving after having measles.

Bro. Deward Silvey preached at this place Sunday afternoon and delivered a fine sermon. He will preach here again the second Sunday afternoon of next month.

Alvis Louise and Ermel Fuller are improving after having measles.

Miss Sula Mitchell spent Thursday morning with her sister, Mrs. Edgar Downs of Bodcaw No. 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin and Miss Mary Lou Collier of Little Rock and Miss Susie Erwin of near Hope took supper with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fuller and family Sunday night.

Doyle Bailey and C. A. Fuller made a business trip to Prescott Monday.

Next Saturday night and Sunday is our regular meeting day at this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Fuller motored to Hot Springs Saturday.

Mrs. Minda Fuller spent Monday with her daughter Mrs. D. B. Bailey.

Rocky Mound

Mrs. J. A. Jordan who has been ill for the last three months died at her home Tuesday night. She was laid to rest at Harmony with Eld. J. W. Erwin and E. C. Bright in charge of the funeral service.

E. O. Silvey and family spent the week-end in Prescott with Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Mitchell and Willisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Mitcell was the Saturday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Meser of New Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Purtle were Sunday dinner guest of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Butler of Union.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hunt visited Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bearden of Washington Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Mitchell was Friday night guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Hazzard.

We all are very sorry to have Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hairston move from our community, but wish them good luck in their new home.

Miss Susie Erwin left Sunday for Little Rock where she will be the house guest of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Erwin.

Tom Steven was the Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Messer of New Hope.

Remember singing at this place every Sunday night.

Doyle Purtle of Waterloo was a visitor at this place Sunday.

Italy regulates notel rates by law and prohibits tipping; a 10 per cent increase in rates for the benefit of employes at the expense of all customers alike, was made.

Texas has more miles of railroads than any other state.

How Black-Draught Stops Bad Feeling

"I have taken Thedford's Black-Draught for about twelve years, when needed, for dizziness, and it is a wonderful medicine," writes Mrs. Elmer Leverett, of Carrier Mills, Ill. "I can usually tell when a headache is coming on by the bad taste in my mouth and a dull feeling. If I begm taking Black-Draught then, I can keep off the headache."

• • Children like the new, pleasant tasting SYRUP of Black-Draught.

A Sophisticated Lady

TO make this charming gown with its flattering lines, try crepe or velvet. The designs are in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42. Size 38 requires 4 1-2 yards of 39-inch material, plus 2 3-4 yard of 1 1-2-inch bias binding.

To secure a pattern and simple sewing chart of this model, tear out this sketch and mail it to Julia Boyd, 103 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y., together with 15 cents in coin. Be sure to enclose, on a separate sheet of paper, your name, full address, your size, the number of this pattern (No. 0908x), and mention the name of this newspaper.

Antioch

Mrs. G. D. Coxwell and children are visiting here, the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Rougan.

Mrs. Walter Coleman and Miss Marie Coleman of Hickory Grove spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mohon and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards in Prescott Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Fegan spent the week-end in Piney Grove.

Brady and Misses Irene and Fern Cook spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coleman of Hickork Grove and attended singing there.

Lawyner West of Boughton spent part of last week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave West.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dougan spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Mohon.

Mrs. John Dillard left Monday for Rochester, Texas, to live with her son, San Crabb.

The Galapagos Islands get ther name from the plural of the Spanish word "galapago," meaning tortoise; huge turtles, or tortoises, are found on these islands.

BABY CHICKS!
All Breeds! From Hempstead county's best flocks.
Custom Hatching
OAKCREST HATCHERY
111 North Walnut Street

"That GOOD flour"
HELIOTROPE
OKLAHOMA CITY MILL & ELEVATOR CO. OKLAHOMA CITY, U.S.A.
REGISTERED HELIOTROPE FLOUR EXTRA HIGH PATENT

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF!

EXTRA VALUE!

In every baking recipe, you'll find "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE successful because its quality is the highest and it has been tested in many recipes for "every-baking" qualities.

That's why Martha McDonald has chosen "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE for use in her cooking school. She knows that for outstanding merit and quality "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE can't be excelled. Be sure to listen to her recipes at the cooking school, and then try "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE in them—then judge for yourself.

Each sack of "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE contains a coupon redeemable for genuine Wm. Rogers & Sons silverware in the beautiful Friendship pattern. You can get a set by saving and redeeming these coupons!

This seal of quality, testifying to the superior quality of "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE is your guarantee of the purity and quality of "That GOOD Flour" HELIOTROPE. Authorized by the American Medical Association, this seal is on every sack of HELIOTROPE flour. Look for it!

ACCEPTED AMERICAN MEDICAL ASSN. Committee on Foods

"That GOOD Flour"
HELIOTROPE
Buy it at your Grocer Today

The Extra Value of Natural Gas!

One of the most valuable qualities of Natural Gas is its cleanliness.

No dusty, dirty coal or wood storage spaces are needed.

Properly burned, it produces a clean, hot blue flame, with no sooty residue, no ashes, no dust to settle upon the floors and walls, the furniture and curtains.

This materially reduces your annual expense for renovation, repainting, decoration, in the effort to keep the home attractive and presentable. It reduces to a minimum the housewife's daily—almost hourly—hopeless task of "keeping the house clean."

The cleanliness of Natural Gas is a real money and labor saver.

In selecting your natural gas equipment, you should be assured that each appliance can be accurately adjusted, so that the proper amount of oxygen (from the air) will be mixed with the gas when burning; a deficient supply of oxygen will result in a certain portion of unburned gas, and you will not get the maximum amount of heat from the gas passing through your meter.

For your protection and guidance, the American Gas Association has operated for many years, a special laboratory to which manufacturers are permitted to submit their various gas appliances for scientific tests. If these tests are satisfactory, the manufacturer is allowed to use the "A. G. A. Blue Seal of Approval." This seal will assure you that the appliance will perform according to the maker's claims. Look for this seal when selecting your Natural Gas Appliances.

Visit your dealer to-day; select modern approved appliances to replace your old, expensive-to-operate equipment.

Arkansas Natural Gas Corp.

Natural Gas Service — A Cities Service Unit

TABASCO

Demonstration at the Cooking School

THE CONDIMENT SUPREME

A dash of this piquant flavor adds a rare flavor . . . makes good food better and all foods good.

WITHOUT A RIVAL

For Over 60 Years

In spite of the cry of a fickle world for something new! There has never been a condiment that has taken the place of TABASCO. It is like Gorham Silver it never grows old. TABASCO is the favorite of every generation. What better recommendation do you ask."

TABASCO
Thre Times A Day—

The snappy twang of TABASCO tickles lazy appetites into action. Try a dash of man's favorite condiment

for
BREAKFAST
. . . . on the eggs
LUNCHEON
. . . . on the salad
DINNER
. . . . on the meat

At Your Grocer
McILHENNY COMPANY
Avery Island, La.

It Will Pay You To Attend

Hope Star Cooking School

It Is Being Conducted For Your Benefit

MARTHA McDONALD

will give you valuable information on home economics and the products she uses in her work.

Be sure and notice her demonstrations using the economical and efficient

KC BAKING POWDER

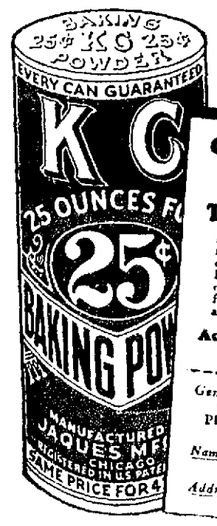

25 Ounces for 25c

SAME PRICE TODAY as 42 Years Ago

The demonstrator will show you how in using this double-tested—double-action baking powder you get Fine Texture and Large Volume in your bakings—why K C is economical and efficient, requiring only one level teaspoonful to a cup of flour. It is not necessary to pay high prices for baking powder to get best results.

After seeing the demonstrations use KC in the same way in your own home. Give it the oven test and judge by results.

Millions of Pounds Used by Our Government

GET A free COPY of The Cook's Book

Beautifully illustrated in colors, contains ninety excellent recipes—bread, muffins, cakes and pastry. You can get a copy FREE by indicating that you are a user of K C Baking Powder and enclosing four cents in stamps to cover postage and packing.

Address—JAQUES MFG. CO., Dept. C-B, Chicago

Gentlemen:
Enclosed find four cents in stamps. Please mail copy to—

Name _____

Address _____